Teambuilding Exercise – Tuesday 20th March – 10h30 – 11h30

The Great Communicator

Resources:

- A4 white paper
- Pens
- Timer
- Clipboard
- Pictures

Duration: 30 minutes

Task

The group members sit in a semicircle in an area assigned only to that group. One member of the group is selected as the Great Communicator.

The Great Communicator attempts to describe in 5 minutes a picture in teams that will allow the group members to draw the objects being described. The Great Communicator may not, however, use certain terms describing standard shapes, colours, jobs of the character or purpose/function of the object. Terms such as circle, square, rectangle or triangle may not be used. Also, group members may not ask the Great Communicator questions or request further descriptions.

Possible Solutions

The solutions will vary according to the descriptive skills of the Great Communicator and the listening skills of the group members. As the group displays their drawings and compares them to the Great Communicator's picture, they will get an indication of their success in listening and speaking. As the group practices this challenge a few times, members should see an improvement in their communication efforts and skills
